

If you work outside of local authority trading standards departments, in compliance roles, where it fits against the coursework requirement, you may use a compliance issue which has occurred that has either been investigated internally only, or has involved the intervention/investigation of a TS department. Or, for Unit 1 or 2, you could use an issue where you have given advice to your own business. It is understood that in both of these cases you may not be able to show that you have real life experience of undertaking the activities. Therefore, your coursework should explain your involvement internally, but also provide narrative addressing the assessment criteria from a TS enforcement, or business advice, you were investigating as a TS officer would.

It is noted by the Units 2 & 3 examiners that many